Life is incredibly busy. From the very moment you wake up, the world tells you to go, go, go. There is always another bill to pay, another errand to run, and just one more thing to do. What is often neglected is the most important thing of all: your spiritual growth. So what if, instead of hitting the snooze button one more time, you take a moment to focus on your spiritual journey? Manna for the Morning takes its name from the bread that God provided the Israelites each day, no more than what someone would need for one day. Manna for the Morning contains a devotional for each day of the year, a daily scripture followed by a brief devotional to provide a daily portion of spiritual nourishment for the day ahead. Whether the daily theme is hope, encouragement, being overwhelmed by the world, strengthening your faith, or advancing your spiritual growth, each day's devotional contains a heartfelt lesson with universal applicability. Pastor and author Riley Pippen presents a thoughtful and reflective compilation of devotionals that will serve as your own personal daily manna from the Lord. Riley Pippen has devoted much of his adult life leading others on their spiritual journeys through his insightful preaching and teaching. In addition to preaching and teaching, Riley leads impactful mission trips to Honduras, Jamaica, and Mexico. He and his wife, Deborah, lead pilgrimages to the Holy Land, Egypt, and Jordan. Riley is a graduate of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas. He has served as pastor in three different churches over the course of 36 years. Riley and Deborah enjoy speaking, traveling, and spending time with their two children and four grandchildren.

Our Daily Manna: October-December 2019, a devotional booklet for champions. Bishop Dr. Chris Kwakpovwe notes that when God introduced Himself to Moses in Exodus 3, He did not say, "I was," past tense. He said, "I am," fresh and present tense. To really know Him as He is, you must know Him in the present, not in the past. But you cannot know Him in the present as He is, unless you come to Him every day through His Word, prayer, and worship. This is what Our Daily Manna helps to provide for you and your family through its organized daily practical life stories, inspirational Bible expositions, breakthrough prayer points, songs, and strong prophetic declarations. October 2019, Day 5: You are not their God. Basic scriptures: Proverbs 13:15, 25. It's been popularly reported that a rich Harvard University graduate said his one big mistake in life has been providing a trust fund for his five children. He is very comfortable paying for an education for as long as they want to study in a reputable university. However, providing additional funds so they could have a lifestyle beyond what they have achieved on their own was a mistake. A leadership teacher, John Maxwell, says if you do everything for your children, what will they do for themselves by the time they finish university education? We have slaved and built houses for them, put car keys in their hands, bankrolled their weddings when they're getting married. What then will they do for themselves in the course of doing these for them? Some people develop hypertension and all sorts of illnesses. Some slump and die. Some steal to achieve these luxuries for their children. Inheritance goes beyond material things. Give them the right values, strong character, and a revelatory knowledge of the power they carry as an extension of God. They will create water to sell in the desert and sell sand to the Arabs to build mansions for themselves. Do something for your children to make them have a softer take-off, but do not take over their lives. The above is so true, but the Lord wants you to know that you are not the God of your children. You are their parent or guardian. Their ultimate provider is Jehovah God. Let those you are helping know this. Yes, Proverbs 13:22 (NIV) says, "A good man leaves an inheritance for his children's children, but balance it with." vs 24: "He who spares the rod hates his son."

but he who loves him is careful to discipline him so leaving an inheritance and using the rod meaning training discipline and experience not spoiling them must go together if you leave an inheritance without training then that inheritance will be abused tell your children how to make their own money allow them to make their own mistakes and let them know that if god could do it for you he can do it for them always remind them that the only thing guaranteed to them is a good education and a fantastic rod balanced training nothing more if they get a house or cash from you it is a privilege not a right make sure you enjoy your little blessings or wealth as much as possible because your children might even go to court to fight themselves after your death will or no will oh what a life stop playing god
